ESSENTIAL DETAIL

THE ATLANTIS HISTORIC INN

Tent Bay, St. Joseph, Barbados • West Indies

WHY ATLANTIS HISTORIC INN

The spectacular position of The Atlantis Historic Inn on Barbados' east coast is a gem and often described as "wild, uncomplicated and romantic" a wonderful alternative to the busy west coast of Barbados.

A historical site this now beach-chic property was the first hotel on the East coast built in 1883, set on the rugged and beautiful Atlantic coast and immaculately restored by owners Andrew & Patricia Warden.

The cool décor and soothing muted shades, mixed with splashes of coloured fabrics transform these beautiful oversized rooms into a luxurious and tranquil space. Imagine throwing open the bedroom shutters to the wild Atlantic Ocean waves, slipping back into the luxury of your four-poster bed and watching the sunrise in the Caribbean – this is the place to do it.

A welcoming spot for visitors with friendly service and a reputation like its sister property for dining with the notable Caribbean buffet. It is the place for Sunday Caribbean Lunch Buffet – a long standing tradition of the original hotel now updated to create a stylish setting and the most delicious Caribbean flavours. The Atlantis Historic Inn restaurant serves delicious food and a great choice of wines, personally selected by the owner.

An intimate guest house, this is the perfect place for a buy-out holiday, whether for an intimate wedding, birthday celebration or family getaway. Twinned with its sister hotel, Little Good Harbour located on the northwest of the island, the East meets West 2-centre holiday option is an exceptional Bajan experience.

Visitors come to relax, surf, or hike and to seek out something different and rather unique on Barbados.

ABOUT BARBADOS

Barbados' long, white sandy beaches some seventy miles of pristine palm fringed are among the best in the world and the island is a true taste of the ultimate tropical Caribbean paradise. It is the place to be seen, draws in the celebrity crowd and attracts those who have known the island for years and return time and time again. Influenced by a blend of West African and British heritage, beyond the beaches the island's history is well documented with the historic and well-preserved international commerce, culture and built heritage area of Bridgetown the island's capital and its Garrison designated by UNESCO as a heritage site.

Barbados measures just 21 miles by 14 miles at its widest point but the island offers visitors a wealth of options and experiences. The choices are endless, whether it's taking time to relax and enjoy the beach or exploring more of Barbados and delving deeper into the heart of this special island paradise.

There is always something happening with a calendar of festivals, sporting events and celebrations throughout the year. Crop Over Summer festival and the finale Grand Kadooment Day see the streets of St Michael come alive with Masquerade Bands and colourfully revellers dancing and enjoying the finale day.

Barbados is known for its fabulous dining scene and the annual Food and Rum Fest bringing the island's finest culinary talent together with renowned Rum producers with October becoming a culinary escapade. Mixed with International cricket tournaments, horse racing, polo and car rallying to name a few there is a vibrant choice on offer to visitors throughout the year.

Combine a stay with a choice of land and sea based activities such as with sailing, surfing, scuba diving, nature-based tours, hiking, or a round of golf with friends, Barbados offers something for all visitors to the island. Barbados has a big reputation and is a popular choice for travellers, it may be small but there is so much to do, see and experience the possibilities are endless.
